

dairyfacts

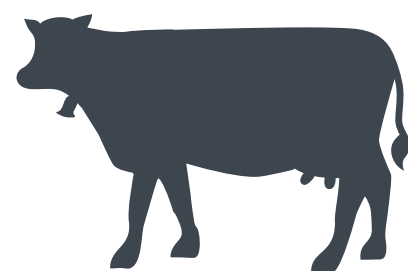

Kansas has six processing plants that produce one or more dairy products. Kansas also has 9 on-farm or specialty processing facilities that produce milk, cheese and ice cream, among other products

– Kansas Department of Agriculture

Kansas has established itself as a prime location in the U.S. for dairies with its abundant farmland, feed supply, and ideal climate.

– Dairy in Kansas

Upon the completion of the Dairy Farmers of America milk powder plant in Garden City in 2017, about 75% of milk produced in Kansas is processed within the state's borders, generating greater economic development by capturing more dollars through value-added processes.

– Kansas Livestock Association

Kansas dairies produce about 3.3 billion pounds of milk each year.

– Kansas Livestock Association

The dairy cattle and milk production industry employs more than 1,665 Kansans.

– Kansas Department of Agriculture

Each year the dairy cattle and milk production industry adds approximately $744,240,025 to the Kansas economy.

– Kansas Department of Agriculture